

Background:

When a new dancer graduates and is welcomed into the club, they have mastered the necessary figures to dance the mainstream program. However in many instances they are not aware of the background or history of the club they are joining or other information that would be a great help to them.

It is suggested that, during the second half of their dance lessons, time should be allotted for the information provided in this trifold. Other club information could be given also to the dancer during these breaks in their class. This way by the end of their instructions they will not only be well versed in the basics of dancing and will have some of the information they need to enter the “Wonderful World of Square & Round Dancing”.

This trifold will be in the question and answer format. Some answers will be provided by the club while others will be generic in nature.
